

HEALTH

The following are community organizations that provide general health services. Please visit www.doh.dc.gov for additional services that the District of Columbia Government offers.

Carl Vogel Center

www.carlvogelcenter.com

Carl Vogel Center is a nonprofit community-based organization that provides multidisciplinary and integrated medical healthcare that embodies all aspects of a person's physical, mental, and emotional well-being. Carl Vogel Center helps medically underserved individuals to become full partners and informed advocates in managing their health.

The DC Center

www.thedccenter.org

The DC Center offers a “Freedom from Smoking” program that includes classes, support groups and free tobacco replacement therapy (the patch, nicotine gum) for DC residents.

La Clinica Del Pueblo

www.lcdp.org

La Clínica serves patients through all stages of life, from prenatal to geriatric care. They provide adult, pediatric, prenatal, and adolescent primary care, as well as diabetic and reproductive health care, HIV prevention, and laboratory services. Doctors and other health professionals provide evaluations, education, immunizations, diagnosis, and treatment, as well as referrals when needed.

The Mautner Project

www.mautnerproject.org

The Mautner Project provides information and referrals to culturally competent health care providers. Additionally, Mautner provides support groups for smoking cessation and bereavement as well as providing support to lesbians, bisexual and transgender women who partner with women (WPW) and their families

Whitman-Walker Clinic

www.wwc.org/GLBT_health_services

Whitman-Walker Clinic provides services that are sensitive to the needs of the gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender (GLBT) communities. The Clinic provides a variety of primary care, dental services and other wellness programs to members of the GLBT community.
